Qanot Sharq

For organized groups, efficient aviation logistics and coordination across all stages of the journey are essential.

Qanot Sharq provides the aviation component of pilgrimage tours.

The airline was established in 1998 and operates a fleet of Airbus A320, A321neo and A330 aircraft. Aviation personnel are trained and licensed in accordance with international and national requirements and ICAO standards. Multilingual communication in Uzbek, Russian and English supports effective coordination throughout all stages of air transportation.

Silk Road Samarkand

A modern multifunctional tourism center designed as an integrated destination for accommodation, leisure, business and cultural events.

Silk Road Samarkand brings together 8 hotels, approximately 1,200 rooms, and capacity to accommodate more than 3,000 guests simultaneously across a 260-hectare site.

Its convenient location near the airport, railway station and key attractions of Samarkand makes the complex a convenient infrastructure base for organized groups.
